BEAUFORT IN RUINS.

WILD WORK OF THE WINDS AND THE WAVES.

The Atlantic Hotel Swept Away---Not a Chimney Left Standing--Railroad Damaged.

Special Dispatch to the News.

MOREHEAD CITY, August 18—5:10 P. M.—At midnight a terrific storm arose, the wildest that has been known here for years, the wind blowing from the east. At 5 o'clock this morning the wind veered to southeast, sending the heavy surges rolling into the heart of Beaufort, a strong flood tide aiding the work, and at 12 m, Beaufort and Morehead City were COMPLETELY WRECKED.

The first to go was the Atlantic Hotel—there is not a vestige left. It was filled with visitors, but they had to flee to the higher ground, leaving everything behind them. Nothing was saved from the hotel, the people barely escaping with their lives.

Then the Ocean View was the next victim, and the spectators who had watched the destruction of the Atlantic made preparations to save such stuff as was conveniently portable, and then sought a refuge from the fury of the elements.

The waves surged up into Front street sweeping away four stores. It is almost impossible to get full particulars as there is scarcely a boat left, and no communications between the two places.

MOREHEAD CITY.

In this place the colored M. E. Church is leveled; a large school house is flattened to the earth; the market house is a total wreck; six dwellings were blown entirely away; nine fish houses are washed off into the water; every chimney in town is cut off at the roofs of the houses.

THE RAILROAD DAMAGED.

One thousand yards of the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad track has been moved and a channel of seventy-five yards in width cut through the road bed. The platform at the depot, the iron piling and all were washed away. The damage done on the road will amount to at least $15,000.

THE DAMAGE TO THE TOWN

will amount to over $10,000. Wharves are all gone, and no place for boats to make landings. In fact, the two places may be classed as ruined.

This is the severest blow these places have ever met with. In addition to the property destroyed, trade and custom for this year at least are gone, and no possible chance to bring them up.

A.

LATER.

A subsequent dispatch furnishes no further information than is given above. Efforts were being made to transport some two hundred and fifty people from Beaufort to Morehead City, but the sea was runaing high, and the matter had not been accomplished when the NEWS correspondent sent his last dispatch. The old warehouse at the landing was washed away.

The Raleigh excursionists will arrive home to-day, arrangements having been made to forward the visitors at Beaufort to their homes as soon as possible, there not being sufficient accommodations to render them comfortable.

The Storm at Wilmington:

Special Dispatch to the News.

At 4 o'clock this morning a hurricane swept over this city, unroofing buildings and leveling trees. At the signal station the velocity of the wind was registered at sixty-eight miles an hour. No lives were lost. The German barque Marie is ashore on the middle ground between the rip and the bar. The crew cut away the main mast and the fore and mizzen masts went with it. She has seven feet of water in her hold. The British ship Kate Bransfield is ashore above Battery Island, but will come off without trouble. It is feared that serious damage has been done to the crops. J.

From the Quebec Riots.

QUEBEC, August 18.—There was no resumption of open hostilities yesterday at the Irish ship-laborers' meeting Saturday night. It was resolved not to accept any reduction as asked by the French section. In both the St. Patrick's and French churches the clergy yesterday recommended moderation to the congregations. A number of ladies remaining in town have sought protection at the Citadel. The magistrates of the city met last night to consider the position of affairs. It was agreed to call a meeting of interested parties for to-day; also to get the government to enforce the Blake Act in town. The arms of the companies of the Quebec battalions have been stolen at Larette by the people from Cape Blanc.

LATER.

All is quiet to-day. Troops are still under arms. The Eighth Royal Rifles were removed from the skating rink to the Queen's wharf during the night. The rumor that the rioters had seized upon the arms stored at Levis as well as at Lorette armory is incorrect. Last night the mayor had a consultation upon the affairs of the day with a number of magistrates and leaders of the various military bodies now under arms. It was decided to request the Government to place the whole of the city and county under the provisions of the Blake act.

A meeting of those who it is thought can influence extreme members on either side, is now being arranged.

The upper portion of the town and business portions of the city are quite free from danger. None are interfered with anywhere but those who are connected with the labor movement in some way or other.

Heavy Storm in England.

LONDON, August 18.—Severe storms are reported from various quarters, causing much damage to crops and interrupting railway traffic.

LATER.

In consequence of the storm traffic on the line of railway between Chester and Holyhead is suspended. The viaduct at Llanddulas, Wales, has been washed away, also some of the bridges. Several sewers have been bursted by the freshets on the lines of the Liverpool railways. Birkenhead is flooded. There have been thirty hours' of continuous rain at Chester. In Derbyshire, Trent and Derwent the rivers have overflowed their banks. All low-lying lands are flooded. Wheat is gradually rotting, and any crops left standing will not pay for the cutting. The rain at Sheffield was so violent as to wash away the foundations of five houses in course of construction.

Working on Short Time.

LONDON, August 18.—A week's notice of five per cent. reduction of the wages of the operatives have been posted in most of the cotton mills at Staley Bridge. In Staley Bridge two hundred thousand spindles are running on short time and the same number stopped altogether, while six hundred and thirty-six thousand are working full time. The more general adoption of the short time system is expected this winter. In Ashton, under Tyne, four hundred and twenty-five thousand spindles are stopped, and two hundred thousand working on short time.

Foreign News.

The latter on his arrival will submit to the Emperor the name of a statesman as his successor who is qualified to continue his policy. The Emperor, on receiving the above nomination will make known his decision relative to the acceptance of the resignation of Count Andrassy.

He will be taken before the United States Commissioner this afternoon.

This morning Captain Melville reports all well on board now. The captain's wife died at Hayt, of yellow fever and on the passage two seamen died of the same disease. The vessels look clean and the remaining six men of the crew appear to be well. The vessels will leave for Boston at the first opportunity.

BUNCOMBE.

ASHEVILLE, August 15.—Trade is quite lively, the streets being crowded with wagons laden with produce of all kinds common to this section.

In the line of criminal news the only thing of weight is the case of W. B. Lowe, from Madison county, on trial for forgery. Case not ended at the present writing.

The Superior Court of the county is now in session, having convened on Monday last. The case pending is that of Emily E. Carter, jointly indicted with R. E. Meadows, charged with infanticide in Madison county a year or two ago. A change of venue to this county was granted. R. M. Furman, Esq., editor of the Citizen is on the jury.

There are many strangers in the place, and the pulpits of the various churches are filled by non-resident clergymen.

There have been some important land sales during the past week, the elegant property of N. W. Woodfin being the most noticeable.

Hops are of daily occurrence at the Swannanoa and Eagle hotels.

Farmers report that the late rains have placed the corn crop in a flourishing condition.

As far as the outlook of the place is concerned Asheville shows a more lively stage of prosperity than ever before. General news is not plenty, but I send, you what there is. W.

WAKE.

APEX, August 18.—The weather is very pleasant. Plenty of rain. Trade is very good. The tobacco factories are receiving orders from England, Scotland and all parts of the United States. They are making a grand success of it.

There was a basket pic-nic at Norris' mill last Saturday. Gay time and full attendance.

Crops are looking unusually well now. There will not be any great loss in crops, on account of the fine seasons. J.

DAVIE.

ELBAVILLE, August 15—Thinking a note or two from Davie might interest you, I give you the following:

Died, suddenly on Sunday morning, 10th instant, at his residence near Jerusalem, Thomas T. Maxwell, a prominent citizen of this county. Supposed to have died of heart disease.

Also, on the same morning, near Mocksville, Mrs. George Gaither, attempted suicide, by cutting her throat with her husband's razor. A terrible wound was inflicted, severing the wind pipe; but under the skillful treatment of Doctors Bell and McGuese. It is thought that she will recover.

Quite an excitement has prevailed for several days over a contested election case. At the late election the proposition was submitted to vote a county subscription of thirty-five thousand dollars to the Winston & Mooresville Narrow Gauge Railroad, and failed to carry by two votes, whereupon the friends of the road determined to contest the election. An investigation has been going on since Monday, the 11th, but no decision had been reached on yesterday, the 14th instant. Both sides expect to triumph. Crops splendid, tobacco looking well, and corn never better. E.

ORANGE.

SOUTH LOWELL, August 15.—On Wednesday evening August 13th at the residence of Dr. M. D. Laws, C. R. Wilson, Esq., officiating, Mr. Erasmus Webb and Miss Alice Pratt, both of Orange; were united in nuptial bonds for an indefinite period.

'Twas Webb and Pratt, now Webb alone,
One name suffices now for two,
And Pratt is off with things agone.
Till Prattlers bring it in anew.

'Whom first we love, we seldom wed,'
No need go far for proof of that,
This match stands first—Dice goes up head.

STANLY.

ALBEMARLE, August 15.—The weather is warm in the day, but cool enough to sleep good at night. Just about enough rain.

We would have had a marriage the other day but for the meanness of the register of deeds. The "gal" wasn't quite eighteen, her dad wasn't willing, and the register would not "shuffle the papes."

Robert Boyd, who for a minor offense had been assigned quarters at the hotel de Page, broke prison on Tuesday night, leaving a note thanking the jailor and some of the citizens for their kindness during his stay, and saying that his offense not being great, he thought his punishment had been sufficient, and that he would not give his friends further trouble or the county further expense.

The time for "big meetings" is close at hand, and we preachers expect to sit back to fried chicken and sweetened coffee. You know we all take sugar in our coffee and sometimes a little coffee in our sugar.

The crops look fine, and "we farmers" (some of them) expect to have corn to sell. The merchants are now busy measuring up the wheat and oat crop, and giving out dresses for the "gals" to wear to "meeting." C.

JOHNSTON.

CLAYTON, August 18.—Liberty church had a revival last week, with eighteen or twenty conversions. The colored people held their association at Smithfield on the 13th, 14th and 15th instant. It was largely attended.

The real estate of Simon Jones, deceased, will be divided between B. R. Jones and A. J. Ellis, heirs at law, on the 19th instant.

Crops are doing well, and some farmers are ready to begin saving fodder, but the weather is unfavorable.

Meadow township has been considerably excited during the past week over a trial of some ladies charged with slandering another. About forty witnesses were summoned, but the evidence did not convince the magistrates that they ought to bind the parties for their appearance at court, so the matter was dropped. G.

LENOIR.

KINSTON, August 18.—Without professing much weather-wisdom, I would prognosticate a great calm to take place here soon, for, at this writing, there is a furious storm raging, the streets being strewn with broken branches from trees, and many of the shade trees uprooted and several fences prostrated. It is feared much damage has been done to the growing crops.

Mr. Eli Sutton was married last Thursday to Miss Jennie Parker, all of Lenoir county.

ALAMANCE.

HAW RIVER, August 18.—We have good, rains, and streams swollen sufficient to cause the factories to suspend work. Trade is good and prospects for a big trade in the fall splendid.

Alamance Superior Court convenes to-day, Judge McKoy presiding. The court will probably be in session all the week.

Mr. Thomas Lashley fell from a high wall and very seriously injured Saturday night.

A protracted meeting is in progress at Phillips Chapel under the auspices of the Methodist Protestant Church.

Mrs. Nancy Roney died last Monday evening aged eighty-four years. Mrs. Kate Wyatt died last Sunday, aged 100 years, 8 months and 15 days. M.

TERRIBLE CRIME.

An Old Lady Attacked by her Daughter and Grand-Daughter.

Concord People's Paper, 16th.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Ibbie Robinson, the daughter of Mrs. Ray, a lady ninety-two years old, and Jane Robinson, her grand-daughter, were committed to jail to answer the charge of inflicting wounds upon the said old lady from which she died last Tuesday morning. The evidence against them is about as follows:

Sometime ago a witness passing the house saw one of the prisoners washing blood from the old lady, and heard the other one in the house say: "Damned if I don't kill the old b—h!"

Another witness visited the house to carry the old lady some food. The prisoners forbade her receiving it at first, but finally relented and permitted her to have it. The witness while there saw one of them strike her several times with her hand.

Later another witness saw one of them strike her a number of blows with a large walking stick.

Another witness testifies that they denied her water to drink from Saturday morning until Sunday afternoon, while she was suffering from her wounds.

It also appears that about three weeks ago Mrs. Ray's thigh was broken. The prisoners say that about 12 o'clock on the day it occurred, while they were sleeping, the old lady got out of the house into the back yard, fell down and broke her thigh.

On last Tuesday a post mortem examination was held and Dr. Caldwell gave as his professional opinion that the death of Mrs. Ray was caused by the wounds she had received.

Ibbie Robinson is about fifty years of age and the mother of the other prisoner. They are both almost consumed by a very loathsome disease, and Jane, aged 23, is the mother of two mulatto children, one of which is in jail with her.

Our good people are very much shocked to find that such fiends have been living in their midst, and if death does not overtake them and release them from the grasp of the law, the justice the terrible crime merits will be speedily meted out to them.

The Reason.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

John Sherman removed the son of Parson Brownlow from his position of Special Revenue Agent in Tennessee, because he made the remark that Tennessee Republicans were "solid for Grant." The incident serves to show how John Sherman proposes to use his official power against the American "Exile." The Grant managers will have to make a hard fight with the cunning and cold-blooded Secretary.

The Fever in Cuba.

HAVANA, August 18.—One hundred deaths from yellow fever occurred here last week being an increase of seven as compared with those of the preceding week. If the prevailing drought continues the present fine prospects of the crops will be seriously impaired.

Nellie Grant Not Dead.

LONDON, August 18.—A report published here of the death of Mrs. Sartoris, daughter of General Grant, is declared unfounded. The mistake arose from the death of Mrs. E. T. Sartoris, formerly Adelaide Kemble.

Death of a Savannah Merchant.

NEW YORK, August 18.—Farley Ripson Sweet, a merchant of Savannah, Georgia, died at the New York Hotel Sunday morning after a short illness. He had come to this city on business, and had been here only six days when he died. His body will be taken to Savannah for burial.

MRS. STEWART DECEIVED

$25,000 FOR THE BODY WITHOUT THE ROBBERS.

The Latest Facts Regarding the Negotiations for the Stolen Body---What Dr Carney is Doing.

New York Tribune, 16th.

It is now apparent that Mrs. Stewart has for many months been made to believe by her counsellors that the stolen body of her husband had been recovered. A lawyer of the the highest standing, who was selected by Patrick H. Jones as a friend of the lady, and one who would be most likely to undeceive her, says he received a copy of the robbers' correspondence, but did not show it to Mrs. Stewart or acquaint her with its character. He carried the copy to Mr. Hilton, who had a copy of his own, and the latter, discovering that Mr. Jones was trying to circumvent him, began to mistrust the motives of Mr. Jones. Mr. Hilton sent Dr. Sidney H. Carney, medical examiner of the New York Life Insurance Company, with the offer of $25,000 for the body, irrespective of the capture of the robbers, to Mr. Jones, who declined the offer. Dr. Carney worked on the case as an amateur detective. On Wednesday, the day the details of the negotiations were made public, Mr. Carney left the city to be absent for several days.

THE BODY NOT RECOVERED.

Up to last evening the body of A. T. Stewart had not been recovered. There are the best of reasons for believing, however, that unless Mrs. Stewart has been undeceived during the past three days, she still remains in the belief that the body was recovered out of the hands of the robbers several months ago, and has been where ex-Judge Hilton could command possession of it. An attempt has been made to reopen negotiations with the robbers, but up to last evening ex-Postmaster Patrick H. Jones, who was apparently acting as counsel for the thieves, and not received any additional messages from the hidden robbers. It was Mr. Hilton who caused the following personal to be published July 24th:

"CANADA.—Counsel desires to communicate."

"If the robbers replied to this Mr. Jones is ignorant of the fact. But, as far back as March, Mr. Hilton had endeavored to bring Dr. Sidney H. Carney, medical examiner of the New York Life Insurance Company, into communication with the robbers. And it is an interesting fact that on Wednesday morning, when the details of the negotiation were made public, many of them for the second time, this amateur detective, Dr. Carney, suddenly left the city for some unknown destination, and is not expected home for a week or ten days.

These new features is this sad history are confirmed by interesting circumstances. A great deal of space in a story of the negotiations that was published on Wednesday was devoted to an imaginative description of an interview between Mrs. Stewart and a well-known lawyer, who had, it was asserted, received from Mr. Jones a book containing a copy of the correspondence with the robbers, and carried the book to Mrs. Stewart, by which means the lady learned that the body had not been found, notwithstanding the assurances she had received to the contrary; and finally, that the same means were employed as in the first instance, to give her the consolation such a deception might bring.

The name of the lawyer referred to was known, but no mention of his having visited Mrs. Stewart was made because there was not an opportunity of learning from the lawyer if the story was authentic. He is well known as the office counsel of one of the most prominent law firms in the country, prominently associated through one of its members with the National Administration. At Mr. Jones' request his name is withheld, and the lawyer himself said his connection with the matter was very slight, and that he should dislike to have his name associated with the case in the newspapers. He said that the book containing a copy of the correspondence was placed in his hands, but denied most emphatically that he had communicated with Mrs. Stewart on the subject.

WELL KNOWN TO MR. JONES.

The man who seemed to be acting as counsel for body-snatchers knew very well that this attempt on his part to undeceive Mrs. Stewart had failed. He knew that this lawyer was acquainted with Mrs. Stewart, and believed that if this friend was shown the correspondence, and told how the ignorance of Mrs. Stewart as to the facts was apparently an obstacle in the way of successful negotiations, the lawyer would take means to undeceive the lady, who was the person most interested in recovering the body. But instead of carrying the book and the facts to Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Jones says the lawyer went directly to Mr. Hilton, who persuaded the lawyer to act on his line of procedure. It was this attempt on the part of Mr. Jones to pass over Mr. Hilton, and gain directly the attention of Mrs. Stewart, which raised Mr. Hilton's wrath against Mr. Jones. His displeasure is clearly expressed in the interview with Judge Hilton which has been published, and Mr. Jones says that up to the time the lawyer carried information of the flank movement to Mr. Hilton the latter and himself had been working amicably together.

A BID FOR THE BODY.

Sometime in March Mr. Hilton told Mr. Jones that he would like to bring an amateur detective, Dr. Sidney H. Carney, who was at work on the case, into communication with the robbers. Dr. Carney went to Mr. Jones from Mr. Hilton, and made a formal offer of $25,000 for the body, without the conviction of the robbers. This offer was communicated to "Romaine," who made the pointed reply that "it was simply a question of issue between the man who possessed A. T. Stewart's body and the man who possessed A. T. Stewart's property," and that he must have $250,000 before he would deliver up the body. Mr. Jones wrote to "Romaine" that he must find some one else to act as his counsel, giving as a reason for retiring from the case that the work was displeasing to him and out of his line of business.

ARE THE THIEVES IN THE CITY?

Mr. Jones thinks it probable that some of the robbers, at least, are in the city, but he says that Mr. Hilton's insinuation that the letters to him never came from a distance is entirely disproved by the envelopes. They bear different postmarks, such as Montreal and Boston, and the receiving mark of the New-York Post Office. Besides, they were delivered to him in the ordinary way by the letter-carriers. And as far as the express package which contained the coffin plate and other articles, it is only necessary to call at the express office to see the receipt. The robbers said they brought the coffin-plate across the line and expressed it from Boston lest the Custom House officers should take a fancy to pry into the package. Mr. Jones says he shall have nothing further to do in the matter.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

Carolina Coal an Ascertained Fact---A New Source of Wealth.

Columbia Register.

A few days since we announced the departure of Professor Bibikov on a trip in search of coal and minerals which he supposed to exist in certain localities. He has since returned to the city and gives the most encouraging accounts of his success, at least so far as the coal was concerned. He has discovered a deposit of lignite or brown coal, not far from Augusta, in South Carolina, about mile from the Savannah River, and a few hundred yards from the Port Royal Railroad. It is on the plantation of Mr. Paul F. Hammond, and the same seam extends to the plantation of his brother, Mr. Harry Hammond. From the position of the strata the professor says he would not be astonished if the whole area of at least a hundred acres would be found to be covered by the same seam. The strata seems to be from two to three feet thick and to lie at a depth of about twenty-five or thirty feet from the surface. He has made assays or preliminary tests of the coal found there, and the result has led him to believe that it can be used for the production of gas and for fuel. The coal itself and the shales which overlie it are strongly impregnated with alum. It also contains a good many spirites or sulphurets of iron. Prof. Bibikoy thinks thinks that both alum and copperas can be extracted from the coal and the shales. His intention is to go to the place again and make use of a borer to ascertain the real depth of the strata, and how far the seam extends, and then to see if he can find under that strata other seams of coal, which no doubt will be of still better quality. He would not be surprised, moreover if he should discover amber also in this locality, as most of the amber of Prussia is found in a locality, as he supposes, similar to this one. This coal resembles most of the coal which is found near Bonn on the Rhine in Germany, and is known as brown coal. It is very extensively used there for any kind of work.

With the enormous quantities of iron ore existing in this State, native coal is a very important commodity with a view of its manufacture, and when we remember that the deposit discovered by Dr. Bibikov is very near to railroad and steamboat lines, which will carry it wherever it is wanted, its value can scarcely be over-estimated.

A sample of the coal discovered can be seen at the counting-room of the News and Courier. A note from Mr. W. H. Faber, of Columbia, says: "Experiments made to day establish beyond a doubt the possibility that at less than one-third the present cost a superior light can be produced. And there is enough of the 'black diamond' in sight to meet all demands for years to come."

THE CODE OF "HONOR."

An Encounter Between two Bank Officials---No Blood Spilt.

A duel between two bank officials took place on the outskirts of the city yesterday. The affair grew out of a quarrel between the two young gentlemen on the morning previous, and they mutually agreed to settle the matter in a duel, which they accordingly did. The duel took place between John M. Sherwood and Fab. H. Briggs, near the penitentiary, with E. H. Heartt and Jas. Ferrall as seconds. On reaching the appointed place each man took his stand; their seconds counted three and the contestants fired. After the smoke cleared away and the reporter was awaiting with breathless silence the result, expecting to see two bloody corpses; it was ascertained that neither one was hurt and no marvel, for the weapon used were guns with blank cartridges. It was alla hoax, and they had a hearty laugh and returned home.

Rudisill Mine.

Charlotte Observer.

Four days' run at the Rudisill mine, according to the report of the superintendent for this week, resulted in the collection of 810 pwts, of amalgam, one third pure gold. The weekly yield is not up to the average owing to the breakage of the old hoisting rope, rendering it impossible to get ore from more than one level. The underground work has, however, been very satisfactory. Thursday the workmen driving the 130 level south, following the old caved in timbers and d bris, suddenly broke through into an open clear level of the olden time, measuring 72 feet in length and bringing up against a permanent face at the extreme south end, all beyond being virgin ground. Brown ore of good quantity was found here. On the same day in the 200 level south a new strike was made in addition to the vein of 8 inches in width on the foot wall, of solid sulphurets and brown ore which widened yesterday to two feet. In the 170 foot level north in the incline driving up to connect the vein of the 130 level the vein has widened to six feet of solid rich ore.

A Matter for Doubt.

Washington Post.

The rumor very generally circulated about a month ago, and about as generally contradicted, that Tilden and Ewing had formed a limited co-partnership with a view to Presidential and Vice Presidential operations next year, will be revived by the story of what passed between Mr. Tilden and Congresman Springer in their recent interview. We doubt, however, whether any such co-partnership has been formed. The single thing that makes it plausible is the apparently well-grounded impression that Governor Hendricks declines to furnish his contingent for a fight in favor of the old ticket, preferring to head one of his own, which would make it advisable for Mr. Tilden to pick out another Western man tor the second place. The mere fact that Tilden comes out strongly in favor of Ewing's election has no significance. He has heretofore contributed from his plethoric fortune to forward the interests of Democrats who were not only in pronounced opposition to his own financial views, but were formidable rivals of his in the Presidential race. A man in his position cannot afford to have anybody think that he stands neutral in any skirmish in which he has a hand, between now and the time when the party shall name its commander in the general engagement. Nothing will help him more in the West than his strong expressions of interest in General Ewing's canvass. Mr. Tilden has his wits about him; that is all.

Not Surprised.

When we consider the little attention paid to the laws of health, we are not surprised at the indifference manifested in relation to the purity of our daily food. If all articles were like Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, this indifference might answer; their perfect wholesomeness would insure us against all evil consequences.

AMONG THE SNAKES.

BILL ARP'S LATE COGITATIONS ON THE SUBJECT.

Some of the Troubles of an Imaginative Gentleman, who sees the Creepers at Every Turn.

Atlanta Constitution.

The weather is sad. It mists and weeps and stays cloudy all the time, and that makes everybody gloomy. There hasent been a day in three weeks that we could plow. The grass grows as fast as the cotton and the seed will scatter all over the open bolls and the cotton-buyers will dock us a cent for trash. Things are not working right for us farmers. But we can't help it. The flies take shelter in the house, and so do the bugs and the grand daddies and the bats.

"Here, William, quick, I say—here's a grand daddy on me; don't you see; why don't you take him off. Lord a mercy, did I ever see a man as slow as you are; do please take the thing off."

Well, you see it takes a long time to find the thing, and when I do, he's a crawlin' on the floor a gittin away as fast as he can, and she declares that's another one, and I have to hunt all over her for 5 minutes.

"There's one of those contemptible bats in here again. Get the broom, William, I wouldn't have it to get on me for a thousand dollars. Mercy on me! I do believe the house will be run over with vermin. Don't you break the bureau glass. Why don't you stand on the table? Why, you don't come in a yard of him! It does seem to me if I was a man I could knock a bat down."

"He has gone out," said I, meekly.

"How do you know—did you see him? Bet anything its on my bed somewhere. Move the pillows and the bolster. I'll dream about the thing all night."

It looks like I'll perish to death for want of some good warm vittels. I'm juicin away. You see when Mrs. Arp was a cookin the other day in the basement an innocent chicken-snake crawled out from behind the meat-chest. Such a scream was never heard since the Injuns scalped my great-uncle. I run for my life and was pickin her up in my arms when she rallied and said, "kill the snake first;" and I killed it. He was a lovely snake—all speckled with dark green and white and had just swallowed a mouse. But, alas! the kitchen is purty much deserted and all regular cooking abandoned. When they cook now I have to take a gun and stand guard. I march forrerds and backwards like a sentinel. Ive had to move the meal tub and the stove wood, and everything else fourteen times for she declares its got a mate, and the mate is there somewhere. "Maybe its a bachelor snake," said I.

"Oh, of course, you don't believe there's another snake in the wide world—and I've found out you killed one last night under the hearth and you told the children not to let me know anything about it; didn't you?"

"It was a very little one," said I, "and I dident want you troubled about it."

"Yes, I suppose it was a little one, but snakes are snakes, and where there's little ones there's big ones. I do believe the whole plantation is haunted with em, and everywhere else, for I can't take up a newspaper without seeing where somebody was bitten."

"Men and boys," says I, "I havent seen any mention of a woman being bitten nowhere—fact is, I dont believe they bite females. You know that old mother Eve was mighty friendly with em."

"Yes, that's always the way—you turn everything into ridicule. Well, you may hire a cook; I'm not going to risk my life nor the children's in this old haunted kitchen."

But I think she is getting over it, and with a little encouragement things will resume their natural condition in a few days. The greatest trouble I have in this connection is Freeman—my good nabor Freeman. I reckon he don't mean any harm by it, but just as soon as my wife, Mrs. Arp, told him about the snake, he up and told her about killin one over in his field as long as a fence rail and how it had its den in a rock pile and would run out after him and the niggers and then retreat and they were all fighin and runnin and runnin and fightin for too hours until they wore him out; and he brung down the rattles of a rattlesnake and told about findin a spring lizzard in the water pail and had like to have swallowed him alive in the gourd. And now my wife, Mrs. Arp, won't drink out of anything but a glass goblet, and when she walks out in the front yard she has one eye for flowers and the other for snakes and lizzards, and shakes her clothes tremendous when she comes back.

One time I heard of a feller who lived a sort of a Rip Van Winkle life for several years until one day he got to thinkin how fraid his wife was of lizzards, and so he caught one and put it in a quinine bottle and whenever she would begin on him he would pull the bottle out of his pocket and take the stopper out and say "lizzard." He said it had a most harmonious effect an always restored domestic tranquility. I don't mention this in any suggestive way for I would hate to see half the married men in the country going about with a lizzard in a bottle; wouldn't you.

I wish you would see the legislature and have an act passed for the protection of geese. My nabors' dogs killed eight of mine the other night—just for a frolic. They tore em all to pieces and left em lying about in the medow. Ask your farming man whats the best thing to do about it. Ask the States attorney if I must sue the owner of the dog for damages; no remedy at common law, can't I do something in a court of ekwity? Mrs. Arp, my wife, she says the thing can't pass off without some sort of satisfaction. Yours not happily.

BILL ARP.

The Panama Canal.

London Times.

A military physician, M. Companys, who served in Algeria and was engaged in the sanitary arrangements of the Suez Canal works, is about to be sent to the isthmus of Panama, there to ascertain what measures will have to be taken for the preservation of the health of the laborers. As regards the latter, agents are to be appointed to recruit them from among the inhabitants of South America best fitted for supporting fatigue in a tropical climate. M. de Lesseps has written to the Emperor of Brazil to ask for his co-operation in procuring hands.

The next invention Edison is to attempt is a machine that will keep a woman's eyes closed during prayer time in church, when a friend in the pew in front has a new bonnet. Then one to crystallize the fragrance from Blackwell's Fragrant Durham Bull Smoking Tobacco.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

TUESDAY, - - - AUGUST 19, 1879.

THE Newton Enterprise is publishing Captain R. A. Shotwell's "Three Years in Battle and Three in Prison."

WITH the marked copies of the New York Star and Indianapolis Sentinel we have very little to do. The NEWS will enunciate its own opinions at the proper time.

THE Ohio State Journal gives notice to the Republicans that the campaign of brag is exhausted, and, if they want to win, they must do something besides claiming 20,000 majority. Whereupon General Grosvenor raised his figures at once to 40,000, and started for Maine.

THE "North Carolina system" as run by a foreign corporation (as Gov. Vance calls it) is having a particularly hard time of it. One end is washed away by the ocean at Beaufort, and Mud-Cut slides in to fill up the other, with occasional aid from stray flat cars.

THE Indianapolis Sentinel, Governor Hendricks' organ, recently published an article headed "The Opportunity—The State—The Man." The purport of it was that the coming Democratic National Convention would be the party's opportunity to do honor to the faithful, representative, non-sectional Democratic State of Indiana by nominating Governor Hendricks for President, or words to that effect.

THE New York Tribune is in trouble over the distrust that the Democracy has of Mr. Tilden, consequently a "prominent Mississippian" is cited for the occasion. It would be as well to state that the only "prominent Mississippian" known to be in Washington at present is General Chalmers. We give the Tribune's statement for what it is worth:

A "prominent Mississippian" in Washington is reported as saying of the Springer interview with Tilden: "Every line of it is redolent with the cool, calculating cowardice and ice-water hypocrisy which has characterized the utterances of Mr. Tilden since the result of the Presidential vote, and I, for one, would prefer to stump the State of Mississippi for Grant to supporting such an unmitigated fraud as the Democratic nominee in 1880."

THE New York Democratic State Committee met at Niagara Falls Friday to decide upon the time and place for holding the Democratic State Convention. Previous to the meeting caucuses were held by both the Tilden men and the Tammany men. Eighteen members attended the former and fifteen the latter, Mr. Tilden thus having a majority of the State committee. After the caucuses, the committee held a meeting, which was only ten minutes long. Syracuse and September 10th were decided upon as the place and time of the convention.

THE Salisbury News proposes to issue a daily edition, the first issue of which will appear on Thursday morning next, and this is the platform on which it will be run:

The News will continue to be an outspoken Democratic journal, devoted to principle and independent enough to denounce fraud wherever it may be found. Experience has taught us that it is more difficult to build up a paper upon this platform than the prevalent method of tickling the wind-bags and pandering to the corrupt in power; but sink or swim, we inscribe on our banner, "Democratic Principles," which embraces all that is noble in politics and manly in man; and with this flag at our mast-head we shall set sail, and steer for the harbor of good will in the heart of a people devoted to principle.

THE August returns about cotton to the Department of Agriculture show a slight decline from the condition in July. The average condition for the whole country is 91, a loss of 2 per cent. better than last year. The decline during July was only 10 per cent., against 31 per cent. in 1878. The severe drought which prevailed in the large tobacco growing States—Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky—during the months of June and July was a great injury to the crop. The average for the whole country is only 77, against 84 last year at the same date. The condition of the oat crop is 91, against 100 in 1878.

ACCORDING to the New York Financial Chronicle, which is considered an authority on all subjects relating to cotton, samples of a new kind of cotton have been submitted to the Galveston Cotton Exchange. The new staple is known as "worm proof cotton," and has been raised by a Mr. White, of Jasper, Texas. An examination of the growing plant showed these facts: The stalks were large and healthy, of a brownish red color, the leaf resembling ordinary cotton, with a rank weed odor; the bolls were larger than cotton and filled with lint. When the boll is fully opened this pod of seed is also opened, and the seed drop out, leaving the lint cotton in the boll. The bolls will all mature within a few days of each other. This the planter could remedy by planting at different times. Mr. White says the cotton can be picked within one hundred days after planting. He has taken stalks of ordinary cotton with the cotton worms at work upon them, placed them in and alongside of his cotton so that the worms could easily get on his cotton, but in no instance did they cut any of the leaves, stalks or bolls of his cotton. He has gathered the worms from other cotton stalks and placed them on his cotton with the same result, and feels very confident that no worm will ever touch it. Mr. White is now in correspondence with the Agricultural Department at Washington, with a view to the Government's paying him for his discovery and then making known his process, which, he says, is very simple. The samples of cotton submitted were of fair length, remarkable strength, and very silky.

REPENT AT LEISURE.

The Sprague trouble is but another instance of mis-mated life alliances. Mr. Sprague was a wealthy, ardent young man. Miss Chase was a lively, talented young woman. Both moved in the highest society circles. They met and eventually joined their fortunes for weal or wo. And the present scandal is the upshot. In the consummation of the marriage neither found their affinity. Mr. Sprague found that he had married a wealthy, high-born lady, whose apparent ambition was to be the first lady of the land. Mrs. Sprague discovered that her ideal was far superior to the gentleman that destiny had made her husband. And yet this ill-assorted couple are not alone in domestic trials. Marital infelicity has been noted of many distinguished couples. The question may be asked, Whom do great men marry? And the answer cannot be anything else than "Woman." In looking for an angel they make the grand mistake. In marrying for wealth and position men and women generally find themselves mistaken. Persons of fine temperament meet; they are mutually pleased; matrimony ensues; in a few months the mistake is discovered, and a separation is the natural sequence; lives blighted and consequent misery is the inevitable result. Look at some of the instances of famous names:

Robert Burns married a farm girl with whom he fell in love while they walked together in a field.

Milton married the daughter of a country 'squire. They separated, but soon after lived together tolerably peaceable. But a heart once broken is like a piece of glass, it is never like it was before.

Shakspeare loved and wedded a farmer's daughter. Knowing human nature so well, no wonder he took a farmer's daughter—yet he paid the penalty of his choice.

Byron married like many others of lesser fame, for money, a Miss Millbank. There was a streak of something good about him—he wanted to get money to pay his debts; but his marriage turned out badly. If he had loved his dog less and wife more perhaps it would have been better. And there was a "Mary" behind it all.

Benjamin Franklin—the man who paid dear for his whistle—married the girl who stood in her father's door and laughed at little Ben as he passed the street selling bread.

John Howard, the philanthropist, married his nurse. He would not take "no" for an answer. She was fifty-two and he was twenty-five. She and John lived happily together for two years, when his better and older half died.

Humboldt married a poor girl because he loved her. The sequel is that they lived very happy.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Mr. Blackburn, Governor-elect of Kentucky, is nearly seventy years old.

The business of grooming dark horses for the Presidential race is very dull just now.

It is estimated that there are three hundred Republican campaign clubs in Maine.

The National Labor-Greenback party is in a sickly way out in Iowa. The heavy wheat crop is what ails it.

Galusha A. Grow is spending a few days in Maine, but is expecting to open the campaign at Somerset, Penn., on the 26th instant

Congressman De La Matyr, the greenbacker champion, in a recent speech in Maine, declared that education injured the colored people at the South more than it benefited them.

The National Greenback Labor party in Philadelphia is to have an organ called the Rag Baby. It is to be published in green, with a greenback vignette heading.

The average Greenback organ thinks that Controller Knox offers a gratuitous insult to the American people when he charges them with being prejudiced against banks because money cannot be borrowed from them without good security.

Ex-Collector Simmons, of Boston, says in his judgment the Republican vote for General Butler will be larger in the coming election than it was in the last, not because the people care so much for General Butler as Butler perhaps, but because they believe that a change in the State government would be for the good of the people of the State.

Senator Hill is occupied with legal business in Georgia. He has just refused to make a public speech at Macon, on the ground that he is busy, that the platforms of the campaign had not been laid down, and that he thought perhaps he should be silent at this time, when the press of the North was so ready to take up and misconstrue what was said.

Not a single reason can be given why Butler's vote in Massachusetts should be greater this year than last, while a dozen good ones can be assigned why it should fall off heavily. Butler's candidacy would be a foolish performance were it not for his craving to keep himself before the public. For the sake of notoriety he is willing to be whipped and pay handsomely for the thrashing.

Speaker Randall seems to be conspiring against the Maine Republicans. He has called a meeting of the Committee on Rules, at Long Branch, and taken Mr. Frye from the canvass and detained General Garfield from entering it. The popular mind will somehow fail to appreciate the necessity of amending the Rules just at this time. Shrewd Speaker Randall! To offer his Republican colleagues the delights of Long Branch, if they will leave the field and cease talking against the Democracy and the Greenbackers in Maine!—New York Tribune.

Hayes' Mismanagement of the Army.

Chicago Tribune.

The appointment of persons from civil life to vacant second lieutenancies in the army has caused much criticism. The law provides for the promotion of meritorious non-commissioned officers, and contemplates the appointment of civilians only in case of the failure of candidates from the former class. Yet it seems to have been the practice of the war department to ignore the non-commissioned officers altogether, and look out for young men of good families in search of a career. This usage is not only in violation of law, but very injurious to the morale of the army. In a republican army there ought to be some chance for merit in the ranks to be rewarded. The greatest general of modern times—Napoleon Bonaparte—believed in this principle thoroughly, and it was well known in his army that there was no place to which a brave man and a good soldier might not aspire.

It is Imperative.

Boston Globe.

It is imperative, in view of this report, that Congress, at its next session, should continue the work begun by the Glover committee and now being carried on by a Senate committee, and that it should not stop until the investigation of the Treasury Department has been made so thorough, so searching, so exhaustive that not one pool of corruption shall be left uncovered, and until the department itself in all its breadth and depth shall have been thoroughly overhauled and reformed.

From the Same Cloth.

New York Star.

It is impossible to satisfy some people. The Republican leaders forced an extra session of Congress by their desperate defense of the revolutionary doctrine that Federal agents should exercise almost absolute sway over State elections. Yet now these same Republican leaders are roused to a dreadful pitch of indignation because a committee of the Federal Senate is collecting evidences of the operation of election laws in some of the New England States. Mr. Adin Thayer of Massachusetts actually could not refrain from insulting the committee for its presumption in harboring the thought that a Republican could ever be guilty of fraud or intimidation. Mr. Thayer's mantle of injured innocence is cut from the same cloth as that which John Sherman rolled himself into when pelted with the damning proofs of the Glover report.

Robeson County Crops.

Wilmington Review, 16th.

A friend and subscriber in Robeson writes to tell us that so far as he can learn the crops in that county promise well. Corn, he thinks in consequence of the drought, will be cut off about one-fourth, although in some places a good average crop will be made, while cotton is doing very well indeed and with indications, at present, of a good average. Too much rain and too little sunshine is what the cotton planters fear now.

Corporal Davis' Majority.

Washington Post.

Senator Blaine never spoils a poor story, or a prediction for the want of a few facts or a few figures. He has now "calkilated" that just 11,000 Republicans staid at home last year who will walk up to the polls and vote with an eye single to his glory. That will give Corporal Davis just 5,000 majority.

Running Things into the Ground.

Mobile Register.

The New York Star is rather running things into the ground in its abuse of Mr. Tilden. It had better turn its guns upon the Republicans, instead of giving aid and comfort to the enemy by increasing the dissensions among the New York Democracy.

A Comparison.

Richmond State.

The people of Pennsylvania pay two dollars for public schools where they pay one dollar for any other public purpose, notwithstanding their debt forty years ago was greater than Virginia's is now, and has been almost paid up in that time without repudiating a single dollar.

Ought to be Investigated.

Washington Post.

The Democrats of Washington county, Mississippi, have nominated a negro for the legislature, So plain a case of bull-dozing ought to be investigated.

Is She Waiting?

New York Star.

Isn't it almost time for Gail Hamilton's "boom" to be heard, or is she waiting for "young Mr. Reid" to get back from California?

No Loud Regret.

New York Star.

Apropos of possible Presidential candidates, neither Mr. Sherman nor Mr. Blaine has as yet expressed any loud regret that Mr. Conkling should have got himself into so ruinous a scrape.

Unhesitatingly Chooses.

New York Star.

Between emigration to Kansas and Yellow Jack in Memphis, the colored contraband of that city unhesitatingly chooses Yellow Jack.

SENATOR THURMAN.

An Expression of Confidence in the Result of the Ohio Election.

Washington Post, 16th.

Senator Thurman arrived at his Washington residence at a late hour Wednesday night, and spent the day in receiving his friends and looking over an accumulated mail. He leaves today for Deer Park, where, for a few days, he will remain as the guest of Senator Davis, of West Virginia. The Senator informed one of the Post's reporters that he had gained eight pounds while at the Isles of Shoals and other New Hampshire watering places, and that he deeply regretted his inability to remain another month.

"You are going to Ohio to take a hand in the campaign, are you?" said the Post.

"I shall make as many speeches as my physical ability will permit."

"Where do you speak first?"

"That isn't determined. Chairman McKinney has been urging me to come on as soon as possible, and has probably made the necessary arrangements."

"Well, Senator, what do you think about the prospects of carrying the State?" said the Post's young man plumply.

"My advices are encouraging from every quarter of the State. My correspondence is large, and it is uniformly of that character."

"But the Republicans are claiming it by a big majority!"

"Of course. They are doing some very vigorous bragging, but that is not to be wondered at. Our people are hard at work and there is everywhere evidence of harmony and good feeling.'

"Then you think Ewing will lose nothing to speak of from the defection of the hard-money Democrats?"

"Nothing at all. Other issues dominate that question. A hard-money Democrat is not likely to vote for Foster, and thereby indorse the doctrine of a Federal supervision of elections, because he does not altogether agree with Ewing's views on finance."

This was about the sum and substance of the Senator's remarks, whereupon the Post, after wishing him a pleasant campaign, bade him good even, and gave way to another visitor.

A New Theory as to Memphis.

Baltimore American.

It has been ascertained pretty clearly that a portion of the ice supplied to the city of Memphis during the present summer was gathered from Wolf river and Gayoso bayou, which for the first time for many years were both frozen over during the intense cold of last winter. The Gayoso bayou empties in the Wolf river and as the former is the common sewer and receptacle of all the filth of the city sewerage the impurities of ice collected from such a source may be imagined. The fact that the yellow fever germs are not destroyed by freezing, and that ice only masks or conceals what it does not kill, leaving it free to revive under the heat of summer, can no longer be doubted. What is more likely than that the use of the impure ice caused the first cases of yellow fever this summer in the family of Judge Ray, when he and his son, both men of frugal habits and personal cleanliness, fell victims to it.

Wicked for Clergymen.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines, but when a really meritorious article made of valuable remedies known to all, that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them."

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side, sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated. Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS between two signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

A SPECIALTY.

Repairing Promptly and Carefully Done.

Talbott's Patent Spark Arrester.

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.

Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft.

It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)

It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler.

No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or horse-power.

RISON PHOEBUS,

THE BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

MECKLENBURG COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

THE GREAT TONIC AND ALTERATIVE WATERS OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT.

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRING NO. 3.

The most Valuable and Powerful Tonic Waters of Virginia, and, with one exception, the most Valuable Tonic Water of the United States..

ANALYSIS of this Spring, made by Prof. Wm. P. Tonry, of the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, March 17, 1877: Results expressed in grains per imperial gallon, shows it to contain 3,774 grains of the Carbonate of Iron, which is recognized by all medical men as incomparably the most potent and valuable form in which iron can be used as a Tonic. A comparison of this analysis with that of other chalybeate waters of the American Continent shows that the Buffalo Lithia Spring No. 3 contains a larger percentage of CARBONATE OF IRON than any other Mineral Water in Virginia, and, with one exception, a larger percentage than any other Mineral Water in the United States. Between this and chalybeate waters generally there is one important difference. Chalybeate waters, as a general rule, are ASTRINGENT. The water of Spring No. 3 is APERIENT—rendered so by the Carbonate of Potash.

With this powerful BLOOD TONIC, in conjunction with the famous Buffalo Lithia Springs No. 2 (which contains a larger percentage of the Bi-carbonate of Lithia than any known Mineral Water,) one of the most powerful alterative waters of the world, and to which is attributed by many eminent medical men a peculiar power as "a Nerve Tonic," it would seem to be a self-evident proposition that these Springs offer inducements to those in search of health, found nowhere else upon the American Continent.

RUINED AT NINETEEN.

The Pitiful Story Told by a Runaway Girl to Justice Wandell.

New York Star, 16th.

"Nineteen years of age," said Justice Wandell, thoughtfully, in Jefferson Market Court yesterday as he looked upon a care-worn and haggard-looking woman who stood before him. She was dressed in rags, but there was evidence of gentility about her. Her hands were finely molded and apparently little used to hard work.

"I have no home, no money and no friends, and I expect to become a mother," she said in a piteous tone. The magistrate spoke kindly to her. She started at the sound of his voice, and looked with a searching glance into his face. The justice thought he had seen her before.

"Are you Lizzie Rush?" he inquired.

"Yes, I was Lizzie Rush," she answered sadly. "A year ago I ran away again from home, being anxious to live in the city. An old man living near our farm induced me to go with him to the city. After a few months he left me to do as I pleased. Oh, judge, if you will send me to Blackwell's Island I shall feel at rest." She was sent to the care of the commissioners.

"That reminds me," said Justice Wandell, as he sat back in his chair and toyed with his eye-glasses, "two years ago a young girl called at the sisters' house of mercy on Second avenue. It was at dusk, and she rang the bell, and asked for shelter. Being neat and respectably dressed she was admitted. The next day she said her name was Lizzie Rush, and that she was seventeen years old. She seemed unused to work. She had no place to live in, having been in the city only one day, and asked to be accepted as an inmate. This, the good sisters said, was why they brought her to this court. From her appearance I thought she was a runaway. I took her into my room and talked with her. She confessed that she had run away from home. Her father was a well-to-do farmer near Stamford, Connecticut. She had read a great deal about life in New York city and was anxious to see for herself. The little money she had had been spent in fares. She wandered all through the city the next day without food. A policeman directed her to the house of mercy. Her parents were communicated with, and it was found that she had told the truth. They said if she would come back they would gladly receive her. She returned, and I heard no more of her until to-day."

Money Rapidly Made.

Small and large investments (from $25 to $10,000), in the combinations of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., pay large profits. The new and successful system unites thousands of orders from customers into one immense capital, and is managed with the best skill and experience in the stock market. Profits are shared pro rata by customers every month. Shareholders thus obtain all the advantages of large capitalists. Thousands are rapidly making money, and many have acquired handsome fortunes by this safe and legitimate method, which has been among the most successful of the movements of the Stock Exchange. $25 will make $125, or 5 per cent., $100 will return $500, $500 will net $3,000, etc., according to the state of the market. New explanatory circular, with "unerring rules for success," mailed to all applicants by Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, Exchange Place, New York City.

"There iz no good substitute for wisdom says Josh Billings, "but silence iz the best that haz been discovered yet." So with Blackwell's Fragrant Durham Bull Smoking Tobacco—it is the best that has been discoved yet.

No Good Preaching.

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. See other column.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Infallibly Cure all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations

The testimonials of permanent cures of Skin and Scalp Diseases which have been the torture of a lifetime by the Cuticura Remedies, are more wonderful than any methods or remedies known to the medical profession.

Cuticura Resolvent, a powerful Blood Purifier, is the only purifying agent which finds its way into the circulating fluid and thence through the oil and sweat glands to the surface of the skin, thus destroying the poisonous elements with which these vessels have been daily charged. Cuticura, The Great Skin Cure, applied externally, arrests all unnatural or morbid growth which cover the surface of the diseased glands and tubes with Scaly, Itching, and Irritating Humors, speedily it removes them, leaving the pores open, healthy, and free from diseased particles of matter.

Thus internally and externally do these great remedies act in conjunction, performing cures that have astonished the most noted physicians of the day.

Salt Rheum for 30 Years

On the Head, Face, and Greater Parts of the Body, Cured.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen, I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for 30 years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to an article in the Union on skin diseases, and I got a box of Cuticura. The first application was a great relief and the third took the scales all off, and I felt like a new man. I have used three 50-cent boxes and my skin is smooth and I consider myself entirely cured. Hoping that this may be seen by some one afflicted as I have been (if there is any) is my earnest wish. And I cheerfully recommend it to all persons afflicted with like diseases. Yours truly,

B. WILSON LORD.

AGAWAM, MASS., Sept. 9, 1878.

The Cuticura Soap should be used for cleansing all diseased surfaces, as most soaps are injurious to the skin.

LEPROSY.

A Modern Miracle. Astonishing Results from the use of Cuticura.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—We have a case of Leprosy in our poorhouse which is being cured by your Cuticura remedies The county had employed all of our doctors and had sent to New York for advice, but to no avail.

The patient commenced using the Cuticura and immediately began getting better. He had been confined to his bed for two and one half years. Had not had his clothes on during this time. Last week he dressed for the first time.

When he walked, there would at least one quart of scales come off of him.

This happened every day.

We think it is a wonderful cure.

We do not think he is cured, but he is in a fair way to be cured to say the least.

Yours truly,

DUNNING BROTHERS,

Druggists and Book-sellers.

ALLEGAN, MICH., Feb. 11, 1879.

NOTE.—Messrs. Dunning Brothers are thoroughly reliable gentlemen, and were unknown to us prior to the receipt of this letter. We firmly believe this Cuticura will permanently cure this very severe case of Leprosy, as it has done many others.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

——A duel between two young men in the Raleigh National Bank took place near the penitentiary yesterday. The cartridges used were blank, however, and no harm was done.

——Editor Deake, of the Bakersville Republican, spent Sunday and yesterday in the city, stopping at the National. He speaks of Mitchell county with unstinted praise, and with Roan mountain rearing its lofty head and shadowing the village nestling at its foot he certainly has a right to speak of the grandeur of the scenery in that vicinity.

——The august person of Burley Haywood, a colored lad of about fourteen summers, was arraigned before acting mayor R. H. Battle, yesterday, charged with the felonious crime of stealing a side of meat from Mr. A. G. Lee. The Mayor heard the case, and after severely reprimanding Burley, pronounced him guilty of said crime, and accordingly detained him to await the action of the Superior Court.

——The following story is told of an old Dutch settler in this city: He had just lost his youngest child, and after the burial services were over was accosted by a host of sympathizing friends, who commenced to pour into his reluctant ears protestations of their tender sympathy in his recent bereavement. The old man stood it as long as he could, but finally he became irritated beyond control and startled his friends by the following exclamation: "Vel, py fait ant Saint Patrick, it vos no use to growl now—te chile vas gone—ant te box only cost me von too dollars ant von haf."

Indignation Meeting.

At a meeting of the citizens of Franklin county, N. C., in the Court House at Louisburg on Friday, the 15th inst. a committee of five gentlemen were appointed to draft resolutions-condemning the manner in which Sheriff H. C. Kearney, of Franklin county, was treated by E. J. Higgins, in Norfolk, on the occasion of the merchants' excursion to that city. The following are the resolutions:

MR. CHAIRMAN: We, your committee appointed to express the feelings of the people of Franklin, with reference to the arrest in Norfolk by Mr. E. J. Higgins of Sheriff H. C. Kearney, after learning all the facts in the case, find that we can not denounce too severely this treatment of one of our citizens, this arrest and imprisonment of one who was at that time in Norfolk by invitation, Mr. E. J. Higgins being on one of the committees which invited the excursionists.

Resolved, therefore, that while we acknowledge the kindness and courtesy extended to the North Carolina excursionists by the merchants of Norfolk as a class, we take this means of expressing our condemnation of the action of Mr. E. J. Higgins, and ask the publication of this resolution in the Landmark and Virginian, Raleigh NEWS and Observer, and Franklin Times.

The Death Rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant organ. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known. d&wtf.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879.

—The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, Esq., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully,

WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.

Cured of Drinking.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for Liquor, which had so prostrated him that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups; I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R. Writes: * * * I cheerfully state that I have tested the virtues and efficiency of Colden's Liebig Liquid Extract of Beef in my private practice in cases of general debility, weakness, depression, dyspepsia, loss of appetite and nervous afflictions, when medicine had proven more than useless. I have found it the best remedy I ever used in Chronic Alcoholism, when the stomach is always irritable and food required to nourish. Sold by all Leading Druggists.
